DEFERMENT AND REPAYMENT OPTIONS

Law students may defer their principal and interest payments while enrolled at least half-time at an eligible school and for the nine month grace period following graduation. Borrowers whose loans are disbursed after graduation will still receive a nine month grace period following the disbursement. An immediate repayment option is also available. Interest will continue to accrue during deferment and grace periods, and will be capitalized (added to the principal balance if not paid).

Footnotes

- 1 The repayment examples assume the variable interest rates for the PNC Solution Loan are equal to the LIBOR index plus a margin ranging from 4.00% to 10.75%, depending on the creditworthiness of the borrower and co-signer, if any. The interest rates used in these examples effective 7/1/2010 are 4.29% for the lowest tier and 11.04% for the highest tier for creditworthy, and 6.79% the lowest tier and 9.29% for the highest tier for credit ready. APRs range from 4.27% to 11.82%. The LIBOR index is equal to the average of the one-month LIBOR rates as published in the "Money Rates" section of the Wall Street Journal on the first business day of each of the three (3) calendar months immediately preceding each quarterly adjustment date. LIBOR means the London Interbank Offered Rate. The interest rate and the APR will increase during the life of the loan if the LIBOR index increases. The loan terms described here are applicable to the 2010-2011 academic year, and are subject to change.
- 2 These repayment examples assume origination fees ranging from 0% to 6%. The origination fees for the PNC Solution Loan vary, depending on the creditworthiness of the borrower and co-signer (if any), from 0% to 6% of the total loan amount (the requested loan amount plus the origination fee). If applicable, the origination fee will be added to and financed with the requested loan amount at disbursement.
- 3 Principal at repayment is the principal amount of the loan at disbursement plus, if you elect to defer repayment, interest that accrues during the deferment term (which is assumed to be 16 months), where both interest and principal is deferred. Deferred interest is capitalized (added to principal) at the time your loan enters repayment.
- 4 Repayment of principal and interest begins nine months after (i) graduation, (ii) you cease to be enrolled at least half-time or (iii) you withdraw from school. The monthly payment amount shown here will increase if the LIBOR Index increases, and will be computed based on the interest rate applicable at the time repayment begins. Monthly payments of principal and interest will be fixed for the first year and then recalculated once each year based on the interest rate applicable at the time of the calculation and reset on the anniversary of your most recent repayment start date so as to pay the loan in full over the remaining repayment period. Minimum monthly payments will be at least $25.
- 5 Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is a measure of what a loan will cost. It takes into account the rate, fees, length of the loan, and the timing of all payments. The APR will increase if the LIBOR index increases.
- 6 Finance charge is the dollar amount the credit will cost and includes interest paid over the life of the loan, plus the origination fee, if any.

Repayment examples are for illustrative purposes only. Figures estimated based on full deferment of principal and interest. Actual figures will vary depending on repayment option. These examples are based on a one year school term with a nine month deferment period upon graduation - disbursement date of 8/16/2010, graduation date of 3/16/2011, loan entering repayment 12/16/2011 and first payment due 1/16/2012.
